PROGRAMME	Residential
STATUS	Completed

Located in Lisbon's Marvila neighborhood, this interior design project combines the essence of the ocean, surfing, and the Serra da Estrela mountains in a modern and dynamic way. The design features a bold use of intense blues, reflecting the depth of the sea, while textures inspired by the rugged mountain landscape—such as burel wool—add warmth and tactile interest to the space. A fiberglass lamp, reminiscent of surfboard materials, adds a unique touch that ties the theme together.
